

De Quebec a Victoria (French Edition)

Extrait : Des les commencements de l'exécution de cette vaste entreprise, et alors que le trace du chemin n'était pas encore définitivement fixe, le P. Lacombe avait rencontré au Portage- du-Rat plusieurs des directeurs du Pacifique qui se trouvaient réunis. Ils délibéraient sur la route à suivre à partir de Winnipeg, et ils avaient mandé le vieux missionnaire pour connaître son avis. Le Père conseillait d'aller tout droit de Winnipeg à Brandon ; mais, à partir de Brandon, il croyait que le chemin devrait se diriger vers le Nord pour atteindre la Saskatchewan, passer par Edmonton, gagner vers la rivière Athabaska et franchir les Rocheuses. C'était l'ancienne route suivie par les Bourgeois du Nord-Ouest, par les voyageurs, et par les missionnaires. Après l'avoir entendu, Sir George Stephen dit : vos raisons, Père, sont excellentes, sans doute, au point de vue de la colonisation des Territoires ; car nous traverserions ainsi, d'après ce que vous nous dites, des régions plus avantageuses comme pays agricole. Mais nous pourrions atteindre plus tard ces régions-là par des embranchements. Pour le moment, il nous faut une ligne plus courte. Et, prenant un crayon, Sir George traça sur la carte étendue devant lui une grande ligne presque droite de Winnipeg à Calgary, et dit : voilà le trace que nous devons suivre.
